3 AZELLA Testing Guidance for ELs with Disabilities

Guidance for Student with an EL Need (or a Non-English PHLOTE) and a SPED Need

Students with a non-English PHLOTE or who have an EL need

MUST be administered the AZELLA

There are NO Exemptions.

There are NO waivers.

Guidance for Students with an EL Need (or a Non-English PHLOTE) and a SPED Need

The Arizona Department of Education provides this guidance document to assist LEAs who have students with an EL need or a non-English PHLOTE and a SPED need. This guidance will cover the following topics:

- IEP Team
- Administration of the AZELLA
- Dual Enrollment for EL Services and SPED Services
- Withdrawal due to SPED Criteria
- Referring a Student Who was Withdrawn due to SPED Criteria for an AZELLA Placement Test

IEP Team

For students with an EL need (or a non-English PHLOTE) and a SPED need, it is highly recommended that an IEP team include someone with expertise in second language acquisition. It is the guidance of ADE that the EL Coordinator is included in the IEP Team because the EL Coordinator is qualified to provide, or supervise the provision of, specially designed instruction to meet the unique needs of children with an EL need and is knowledgeable about the availability of resources of the district.

It is important that IEP Teams for ELs with disabilities include persons with expertise in second language acquisition and other professionals, such as speech-language pathologists, who understand how to differentiate between limited English proficiency and a disability. The participation of these individuals on the IEP Team is essential to develop appropriate academic and functional goals for the child and provide specially designed instruction and the necessary related services to meet these goals. The EL specialist will be responsible for ensuring that Arizona's English Language Proficiency Standards are used when developing the student's English language acquisition program. (114th Congress (2015))[1]

Data from the AZELLA and other English language acquisition assessments can inform instruction, support the development of IEP goals and inform the process of English Language acquisition as developmentally appropriate. The input from the EL Coordinator and/or someone with expertise in second language acquisition provides essential guidance to the IEP team related to the process of second language acquisition, parent communication, cultural responsiveness and reduction of language barrier.

The EL Coordinator and/or someone with expertise in second language acquisition is someone who has background in the English language services that are available to address the student's strengths, needs and learning style, as well as the interpretations of the assessment results and present levels of performance. The EL Coordinator and/or EL expert can fulfill the IEP team member requirement of having a person: (1) with knowledge about general education curriculum (ESL programs and ESL instruction), (2) to interpret the instructional implications of evaluation results and (3) with knowledge or special expertise regarding the child.

>> AZELLA tab >> Information

IEP Team includes someone with expertise in second language acquisition.

- Understand how to differentiate between limited English proficiency and a disability

No exemptions. All EL students and students with a non-English PHLOTE, regardless of disabilities, must have an AZELLA test submitted.

Special Education expert after being trained on AZELLA test administration, can be the test administrator when it is in the best interest of the student.

An earnest attempt must be made with all AZELLA domains except when the disability precludes assessment in one or more domains of the AZELLA and when there are no appropriate accommodations for the affected domain(s).
- Example: Students who are deaf and/or blind.

Share AZELLA results with the IEP Team. Use the AZELLA Threshold Performance Indicators and other means and measures available for English language proficiency.

Withdrawal due to SPED Criteria
- Student must have a "current" and "Eligible for EL Services" AZELLA test record.
- Student must have a current FY EL Services enrollment.
- Student must have a SPED need, a current IEP, and enrolled in SPED services.
