

Early Childhood Partnerships

Presenters: Geovanni Orozco and Virginia Ferguson, Avondale Elementary School District

How to build effective partnerships by identifying commonalities across agencies. In a world where stipulations and budgets are in constant constraints; schools and agencies have to find ways of collaborating with one another. Such an example is happening at Lattie Coor Elementary School; where the Headstart program and Avondale Elementary School District have created a plan that not only enhances their children's development, but has also built an atmosphere where families come together to learn.

Intended Audience: Teachers, School Administrators, Federal Grants Administrators, Other District Level Employees, Early Childhood Program Administrators
