Presenters: Amanda Nolasoc, ADE

School counselors, like teachers, utilize curriculum, standards, and data to implement comprehensive school counseling programs to meet the needs of all students. The ASCA National Model is an evidence-based program that helps answer the questions, “What do school counselors do?” and “How are the students different as a result of what school counselors do?” School counselors help all students in the areas of academic achievement, career development, and social/emotional learning.

Intended Audience: School Administrators, Federal Grants Administrators, Other District Level Employees, School Counselors, SEL Coordinators
