

Data-Based Individualization Professional Learning Series

Purpose:

Data-based individualization (DBI) is a process for individualizing and intensifying interventions through the systematic use of assessment data, validated interventions, and research-based adaptation strategies. The DBI Professional Learning Series teaches educators a research-based process for supporting students with and without disabilities who require intensive intervention in academics and/or behavior.

Cost:

Provided by the ADE/Exceptional Student Services in partnership with the National Center on Intensive Intervention at no cost to participating schools.

Readiness Webinar Registration:

If your school is interested in this learning series, attendance is required at the following readiness webinar.

July 15, 2020 10:00 – 11:30 a.m. Click here to register.

Required Webinar Participants:

Principal, special education teacher, and one of the following: general education teacher, coach, or interventionist

Enrollment for the learning series will be contingent upon completion of the following:

1. Participation in the readiness webinar.
2. Submission of a completed application (details provided at webinar). Applications are due by July 27, 2020.

Note: Registration for the learning series is limited to 10 teams. Applications will be reviewed by a team of evaluators, and applications earning the highest scores in the evaluation process will be approved until all seats are filled. The special education teacher and the general education teacher, coach, or interventionist are required to attend the entire professional learning workshop series. The principal is required to attend the readiness webinar. If your team cannot attend the webinar on July 15 but is interested in participating in the learning series, please email Kim Rice.
