APR FAQ Document

1. How do we set up the Teacher Survey/other student data to be fed through the SIS into AZEDs?
    a. Depending on the SIS, please reach out to your SIS representative.

2. What do we do with the data collected manually for APR? Is it possible to enter it?
    a. The data submission window for the data to be submitted into AZEDs has closed. The system will automatically populate NA or 0's depending on the correct value. You will not be held out-of-compliance with this issue.

3. Does all student data automatically feed into the APR?
    a. No, GPA data does not. You will need to download the excel and manually enter GPA data into the file, then resubmit.

4. Is this going to be the process for FY26?
    a. Yes, we anticipate all data to be automatic for the Student Data at the end of FY26.

5. How should we prepare for this process?
    a. Make sure to be in contact with your SIS representative to develop/setup the data to automatically feed from your SIS to feed into AZEDs and then the APR. Please do this process as soon as possible so we can help where needed if issues arise.

6. So for sites who opted to manually input teacher survey data, and then collected and input that data into the APR Data Outcomes spreadsheet when it was originally available…that was essentially a waste?
    a. Not necessarily, the data you collected is good data to keep for record keeping in case it is needed for reporting reasons. Please hold on to any data you manually collected and keep it in a safe place.

7. If we opted for manual ISS/Teacher Survey entry for FY25, is there a stock explanation we should enter for the narrative section of why data was not collected?
    a. Under Outcomes Narratives, you can enter a statement that the reason for no data was due to the change of process. ADE will also not this for the federal APR as well.

8. If we service only K-5 in our 21CCLC programming and opted for manual teacher survey data, am I correctly understanding that we will have nothing to enter in this round of APR Data Outcomes as GPA is and teacher surveys is now NA? Do we need to download and reupload in that instance?
    a. You will still need to enter NA's for the GPA data if you have no GPA data to enter. This section cannot be left blank, otherwise, the file cannot be submitted.
